As usual, If anyone has anything that they would like to include, email me or the team at comms@royalnavalassoc.com. Whilst all contributions will be considered, please note though that this is a short update newsletter and we can't publish everything.

FREE FALKLANDS VISIT Veterans and the bereaved from the Falklands War completing a 25 question survey and registering their interest will be entered in a ballot for a trip to the islands through a ballot set up by the Ministry of Defence (MOD). More than 100 places will be allocated for the trip with the chance to bring a partner for a flight to the Falkland Islands to mark the 40th year since the liberation of the islands by the UK armed forces. Priority will be given to veterans who have not yet returned to the Falkland Islands and NoK who have not visited the Falkland Islands.

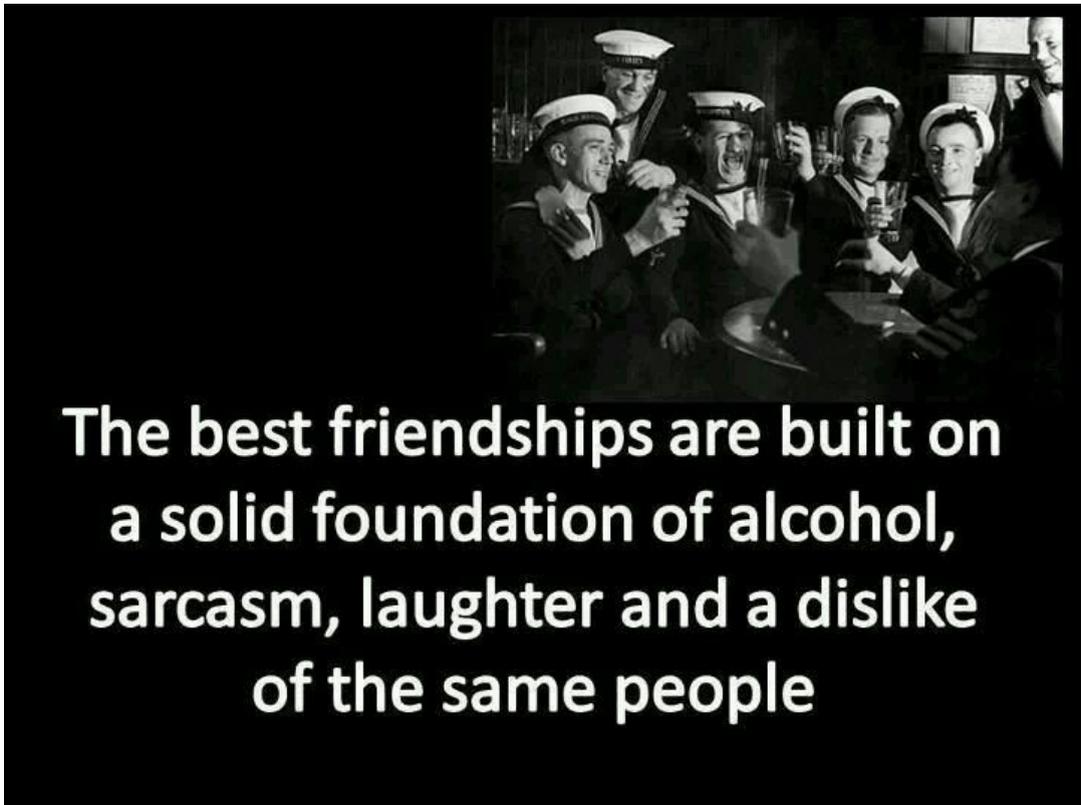

The trip will include escorted tours and the opportunity to attend memorial services for those who died in action. It takes place across the Remembrance weekend this November with Ministry of Defence funding to allow veterans and loved ones to remember the sacrifices of their fallen comrades.
